I, George William Bush, a resident of Alexandria, Virginia do hereby state under oath as follows:

1. My name is GEORGE WILLIAM BUSH. I reside in Alexandria, Virginia.

2. From September 1963 until February 1964 I worked at the CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY headquarters. My job responsibility was as a junior watch officer.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
COUNTY OF ARLINGTON, ss:

Taken, subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of September 1988 by George William Bush.

My commission expires: 12/18/88

To: Director
Bureau of Intelligence and Research Department of State

From: John Edgar Hoover, Director

Subject: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY
November 22, 1963

Our Miami, Florida, Office on November 23, 1963, advised that the Office of Coordinator of Cuban Affairs in Miami advised that the Department of State feels some misguided anti-Castro group might capitalize on the present situation and undertake an unauthorized raid against Cuba, believing that the assassination of President John F. Kennedy might herald a change in U. S. policy, which is not true.

Our sources and informants familiar with Cuban matters in the Miami area advise that the general feeling in the anti-Castro Cuban community is one of stunned disbelief and, even among those who did not entirely agree with the President's policy concerning Cuba, the feeling is that the President's death represents a great loss not only to the U. S. but to all of Latin America. These sources know of no plans for unauthorized action against Cuba.

An informant who has furnished reliable information in the past and who is close to a small pro-Castro group in Miami has advised that these individuals are afraid that the assassination of the President may result in strong repressive measures being taken against them and, although pro-Castro in their feelings, regret the assassination.

The substance of the foregoing information was orally transmitted to Dr. George Bush of the Central Intelligence Agency and Captain William Evak of the Defense Intelligence Agency on November 23, 1963, by Dr. W. T. Forsyth of this Bureau.

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP) — Vice President George Bush may have worked for the Central Intelligence Agency in 1963, more than a decade before becoming its Director, according to a magazine article that cites a recently discovered Federal Bureau of Investigation memorandum.

Mr. Bush denied the report through a spokesman.

The Nation magazine, in its current issue, quotes a memo of Nov. 29, 1963, from J. Edgar Hoover, the bureau's Director at the time, to the State Department about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In the memo, according to the magazine, Mr. Hoover stated that the bureau had briefed "Mr. George Bush of the Central Intelligence Agency" on the reaction of Cuban exiles in Miami to the assassination.

The magazine article, written by Joseph McBride, also quoted an unidentified source "with close connections to the intelligence community" as saying Mr. Bush "started working for the agency in 1960 or 1961, using his oil business as a cover for clandestine activities."

Stephen Hart, a spokesman for the Vice President, said that he had talked to Mr. Bush about the story and that the Vice President denied any involvement with the agency before President Ford named him its Director in 1975.

"He was an oilman in the early 1960s, and in 1963 he was running for the Senate," Mr. Hart said.

Bill Devine, a spokesman for the intelligence agency, declined to comment on the possibility that Mr. Bush, or someone else with that name, worked for the agency in the 1960s.

"It's our standard policy on allegations that people have worked for the C.I.A. or that sort of thing," Mr. Devine said. "We neither confirm nor deny."

The magazine said Mr. Hoover's memo was recently discovered among 98,755 pages of bureau documents released in 1977 and 1978 in connection with lawsuits brought under the Freedom of Information Act.

At the time the memo was written, Mr. Bush was running the Houston-based Zapata Off-Shore Company, which the magazine said gave Bush an opportunity to do extensive overseas travel, including trips throughout the Caribbean. In 1964, Mr. Bush ran unsuccessfully for the Senate.

In his 1987 autobiography, "Looking Forward," Mr. Bush calls his appointment to head the agency "a real shocker" in light of his background as a "non-professional outsider — and a politician to boot." However, Mr. Bush also notes in the book that "I'd come to the C.I.A. with some general knowledge of how it operated."

The Nation magazine has tracked down the elusive George William Bush, and he says he is not the guy who was briefed by the FBI following the assassination of John F. Kennedy. This Mr. Bush, according to The Nation, lives in Alexandria and is an employee of the Social Security Administration.

GWB did work at the CIA at the time when, according to a memo signed by J. Edgar Hoover, “George Bush” was briefed. But he told The Nation he was a researcher and never received any interagency briefings.

The Nation contends that the person briefed was George Herbert Walker Bush, currently vice president of the United States. The CIA, in a rare public comment, denied that and put out the name of George William Bush, “whereabouts unknown,” who worked the night watch at the agency at that time.

GHWB, who headed the CIA under Gerald Ford, says he was in the oil business in Texas at the time the FBI briefed “George Bush” at the CIA. He says he doesn’t have any idea what The Nation is talking about in suggesting that he had CIA ties in the early 1960s.

Joseph McBride, the author of The Nation stories, tracked down GWB and checked out some of the background information he provided. “In the Alice in Wonderland world of intelligence, there is always the possibility that people are not who they say they are,” Mr. McBride says.
